

On-going ad to be available on our department website:

The Department of Economics at the University of California, Davis, seeks temporary instructors to teach in a wide range of fields each academic year.

Positions are contingent on funding and pending administrative approval. Applicants should have a Ph.D. or equivalent in Economics. Salary is based on ability and experience. Anyone interested in applying should submit their application online. We will only be accepting applications online. Submit a curriculum vitae, evidence of teaching ability and/or two letters of reference. Applications are accepted on a continuous basis for future temporary openings. However, for first consideration for the 2016-17 academic year, please submit your application by March 31, 2016. Only completed files will be reviewed.

The service periods for each quarter of instruction are as follows:

Fall Quarter 2016 – September 19, 2016-December 9, 2016

Winter Quarter 2017 – January 6, 2017-March 24, 2017

Spring Quarter 2017 – March 30, 2017-June 15, 2017

The University of California, Davis, and the Department of Economics are interested in candidates who are committed to the highest standards of scholarship and professional activities, and to the development of a campus that supports equality and diversity. The University of California is an affirmative action/equal opportunity employer.

This position is covered by a collective bargaining unit.
